SUBJECT FORBES got home this morning from Florida, where he went for the purpose of arresting William, one of the five members of the Carroll family, on a charge of violating the liquor law, under an indictment returned against him at the last term of court. He got his man, and William is now behind the bars in the county jail. He will doubtless be released in a few days on bail. Maria went after William three times. The sheriff reported that two weeks ago his prisoner engaged in a row at Weber's beer hall; the next day he got into another fight on Wood street, within half a block of the county jail, and one day last week engaged in a shooting scrape at Carroll's saloon with his brother.

Tux ladies held another meeting at the opera house on yesterday afternoon, and reported progress of preparations for the three days' fair and festival at the tabernacle next week for the benefit of Saint Mary's hospital, in which all our people are interested. The festival will commence Tuesday evening, May 18th, and continue until the night of the 20th. It promises to be the most successful affair of the kind yet given.

At the tabernacle temperance meeting to-morrow night Elder W. F. Richardson, of Assumption, Ill., the young man who was married in this city a few years ago, will deliver the principal address; and Miss Annie Culp has consented to give one of her excellent readings. Let there be a large turnout.

Marion Stevens appeared before the coroner's jury investigating the cause of the death of Berry Johnson, and testified that when the party arrived at the "haunted house" Davis invited himself and Ward to come in and have a glass of beer; that they went in and had a drink, after which Davis and Ward went into another room; that soon after witness left and went to his home on the Mt. Zion road, some distance south of the "haunted house"; did not hear any pistol firing, and did not know that Johnson had been shot until the next morning. No other witness was called, and the jury proceeded to make up a verdict. They found that Johnson came to his death from a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of C. C. Davis. The testimony secured by the jury, and their verdict, will go before the grand jury now in session, and no doubt but little difficulty will be experienced in that body finding a true bill against Davis for committing what at present appears to have been one of the most unprovoked murders on record in this county. From what we can learn, Davis and Johnson had always been good friends in their way, drinking and carousing together. Davis contends that he is guiltless of the charge against him, and seems to act on his old foot-racing motto, "It's a sucker that never tumbles, and a thoroughbred that never grumbles," as he paces his cell at the county jail.

The Musical Treat To-Night
Miss Litta, the popular song queen, accompanied by her support of four eminent artists of well-known popularity throughout the country, arrived in the city this forenoon from Bloomington, and will appear at the opera house to-night, giving one of the finest concerts ever presented in Decatur. The programme has especially been prepared for this occasion, and embraces the finest selections from the most noted composers of concert and operatic music. This being unquestionably the greatest musical attraction ever offered in this city, we shall confidently expect to see a large and fashionable attendance. Don't miss it. General admission 50 and 75 cents.

Ray and Right-Speak Room.
Frank Boyd, late colored head cook at the Central House, and brother, Alfred Boyd, who has been traveling in Europe for the past nine years with a wealthy family residing at St. Louis, have opened the "Union Boarding House" in the south room in Dr. Bill's building on South Water street, and are ready for business. The room is nicely fitted up with a lunch counter, and elegant meals cooked in the most approved and tempting style will be served up by the Boyd Brothers at the lowest living prices. Meals at all hours. Give them a call.

Very Likely.
The Bement correspondence has the following paragraph in the Monticello Herald of the 13th inst.:
The rumor now is that the Washburn Company is going to take up the track between Decatur and Danville through this place, and make a double track between the two places by way of Monticello and Champaign, and there is quite a desire on the part of some of our citizens to locate in Monticello in consequence.

What an Ideal
Lieutenant Br. J. J. Caldwell, Baltimore, Md., states: "I have used Colden's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator largely in debility, febrile and nervous diseases, and I have found it one of the most reliable of nutrient tonics now in use or to be found in pharmacy."

The Promenade Concert.
The fashionable event of the week was the grand promenade concert, dramatic and musical entertainment and festival, given under the management of the ladies of St. John's Episcopal church at the tabernacle last night. The room was most beautifully decorated with flowers, confectios, lemonade and fancy work stands, resembling little bowers of enchanting beauty, and numerous supper, ice cream and strawberry tables, arranged on either side of the spacious room. The stage was also charmingly adorned with the stars and stripes, with forest boughs on the stage, and an attractive lake scene in the background, which was greatly admired by the throng. And over all a soft and mellow light was thrown by the many gas jets and two large locomotive head-lights hung to the supports at the east end of the room. Soon after 8 o'clock about 300 people, including most of the leading families of the city, had assembled and taken seats near the stage, when Prof. Goodman's full orchestra of eight pieces struck up a pleasing air, after which Mr. L. Burrows appeared on the stage as master of ceremonies, and announced that Miss Flora Race would give a recitation entitled "The Bridge," by Longfellow. The young lady, who was richly attired in white, fully sustained her fine reputation as a dramatic reader, and retired amidst great applause. The orchestra then rendered another selection, when Miss Alma Morgan, of Springfield, was introduced. She recited Gail Hamilton's "Archie Dean," in a faultless manner, displaying remarkable dramatic power, and much natural talent. The selection took well with the audience, and being delivered with such charming grace and simplicity, it was with difficulty that the auditors could restrain themselves from making demonstrations of appreciation before the young lady had finished, and when she retired the applause was spontaneous and unanimous. Miss Morgan is a sister of Conductors Horace and George Morgan, of the Washburn, and Albert Morgan. While in Decatur she is the guest of Mrs. Chas. Cornueau. Following Miss Morgan's recitation came the reading of Longfellow's poem, entitled, "The Blind Girl of Castel Oem," a love tragedy, by Mr. Burrows. The reading was made attractive by the introduction of solos and choruses, with orchestral accompaniment, and a number of striking tableaux, one of which was a marriage scene where the blind girl (Miss Maud Burrows) attempted to stab herself to the heart with a glistening dagger, but fell dead at the feet of her faithful lover, Baptiste (Mr. E. F. Ewing) from deep anguish and sorrow before driving the dagger into her breast. In the presentation of this love drama, quite a number of the younger members of St. John's church and of other churches as well participated, and though it occupied considerable time it was received with evident pleasure. The chairs were then removed from in front of the stage, and the Promenade Concert proper the evening music of the orchestra commenced, and continued until a late hour, while the fashionable throng which numbered about 1000 people crowded about the refreshment tables and partook of the tempting edibles with a relish. The several tables and bowers were arranged in exquisite good taste, occasioning the usual complimentary comment. Were it not for the crowded state of our columns to-day we would give the names of the ladies and gents who assisted in the affair, but suffice it to say that the reception was a grand success, one which the genial rector, Rev. Walter H. Moore, and his congregation may well feel proud of. The gross receipts were nearly $300.

Communicated.
In Tuesday's paper an article appeared stating that Mr. Archer stood the entire expense of improving West Cerro Gordo street. It is positively a mistake. Mr. Archer called on each property owner and each willingly agreed to contribute his share towards the improvement; hence we deem it necessary to make this statement and suggest a more appropriate title, "Pine Avenue," or similar.

[We were informed by a gentleman residing near Cerro Gordo street that Mr. Archer planted the young evergreens at his own expense, and as he seemed to be quite sure about the matter, our reporter wrote up the paragraph on his say so.]

Attention, Excursionists!
Tickets to the Cincinnati Musical Festival over the L. D. & B. Ry., will be good from May 18th to 23rd, inclusive. Fare for round trip, $5. Passengers can leave Cincinnati at 7 p. m. on the 22nd, and arrive at Decatur on the following morning. Remember that excursion train leaves Decatur at 11:40 a. m., May 18th.

Pat Rooney Saturday Night.
Array there, now! Moid this! To-morrow night Pat Rooney and his superb combination of specially performers will hold the boards at the opera house, to make the public laugh and applaud. He has a splendid company, composed of the very best talent in the country. An exchange says:
Pat Rooney and his excellent combination drew well last night, a large audience being on hand at Comstock's opera house (Columbus) to witness the entertainment. The programme was full of good features from beginning to end, and all of them were well received. The troupe has been restocked almost entirely since it showed here last, and the new company is even an improvement on the old one, if such a thing be possible. The specialties are all new and taking, and were scored again and again.

PERSONAL POINTS.
Ed Judson, of Indianapolis, struck Decatur yesterday, but it was a gentle looker.
Mrs. Judge Eden and Mrs. C. C. Clark, of Sullivan, were at Priest's Hotel yesterday.
Alexis R. Montgomery left for Cincinnati last night on business for the Union Iron Works.
Mrs. Katie DeBalt, of St. Louis, arrived in the city last night on a brief visit to her mother, Mrs. J. F. Boyd, and friends.
Mr. R. E. Andrews, of Maroa, is in the city attending court. He called last evening and renewed his subscription to the Daily Republican.
Charles F. Armstrong, Chicago, and Hon. Phil. Warren, of Springfield, were among the guests at Priest's Hotel to-day.
John G. Imboden, of Imboden Bros.' meat market, is a bold soldier boy, having joined the Decatur Guards on Wednesday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Race are certainly the happiest couple in Decatur since the arrival of the handsome twin girls on Monday last, who will make this city and the West Main street Race residence their future home.

Miss Jessie Gillett, of Elkhart, took quite a prominent part in the promenade concert entertainment at the tabernacle last night. Miss Gillett while in the city is the guest of her friend, Miss Belle Ewing.
Mr. James W. Cherry and Miss Katie Smith were united in marriage at the St. James German Catholic Church on the evening of the 13th inst. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Lammert, in the presence of a large company of friends.
Litta's big brother arrived in the city this forenoon from Bloomington, and is stopping at the St. Nicholas. Litta and the concert company missed the train at Bloomington this morning, but will arrive in the city this evening at 6:10 o'clock without fail, in good time for the concert to-night.

Recently Dr. Leaton told his congregation at Paris that the people who attended his church were the most plainly attired of any he ever preached to; and then the Paris Republican took occasion to remark "Some of them doubtless feel that the Doctor is the plainest preacher they ever listened to—not in dress, but address. But still they go."
Joey Shartel, the handsome little pop-corn boy of Decatur, a prime favorite with the lawyers and all others as well, has the thanks of the REPUBLICAN pencil pushers for a fine sample of his stock in trade, laid on our table last evening. Joey is the youngest son of the Widow Shartel, and sells No. 1 pop-corn at five cents a ball.

For Circuit Clerk.
John Irwin is to-day announced as a candidate for the Republican nomination for circuit clerk. Mr. Irwin is a stalwart of the strictest sect, and does not yield the palm to any man in his devotion to the principles of the party. He has been constant, active, and untiring in his support of the nominees of its conventions, and expects to continue being so in the future. Mr. Irwin possesses every qualification necessary to make a good officer. He is a first-class accountant, as every body knows, and occupies now, as well as for years past, an important position in one of the largest mercantile houses in Central Illinois—a house in which no second-rate man could retain a place. He enjoys the confidence and respect of all who know him, and has a popularity among the people which few men ever reach. If nominated he will prove to be a strong candidate.

Rev. Toulmin's Second Sermon.
Rev. Toulmin last night at the Universalist church, preached a very effective discourse on the text, Acts 9:4: "What wilt Thou have me to do?" He said the person who shifts his responsibility; each one has a work to do of some kind; no one should bury his talent, but should earnestly seek and seek to know what the Lord would have him to do, and then do it. What we sow we must reap; the ends of our existence are unanswered save by the exercise and unfoldment of our spiritual nature; we should seek first, as of supreme importance, the kingdom of heaven. God helps those who use their powers for the good of others. We should believe in our hearts that the love of God for all: He has work for all; to develop all. To love God, and to love man, are the greatest duties of all; and if all would practice these simple requirements it would stop skepticism. Infidelity respect good people; they revere Christ, but they disbelieve in hypocrisy. True love to God and man would connect everyone of them, and this is the basis of the church of the future. This we all have to do. "I have great respect for Mr. Moody," said he, "though at first he was requested to desist from attempting to speak in church on account of his awkwardness, but he sought another church and tried again; tried earnestly, and his very earnestness has caused God to bless his efforts. Our text shows the love of God for all: He has work for all; to develop all.
